

The Roundtable

Published Mostly Weekly by the Bangor Area Rotary Breakfast

www.bangorbreakfastrotary.org

November 7, 2019

Agenda: Ad Libitum

The speaker schedule got jostled a bit today, with this morning's program being moved to next week. The morning's business was, well, club business, such as group discussions about the auction. Two groups discussed items needed and sponsorship solicitation for the auction.

Tom Dorrity noted that volunteers for the Veterans Day breakfast should arrive at Jeff's Catering around 6:30 am on Monday, November 11. Set-up for the breakfast will begin Sunday afternoon. Jeff's Catering is also the site for our annual auction on December 5, 5-9:30 pm.

John Flynn, coordinator for the Interact Club at the Bangor Y, said he has about ten members, one-half of whom are new members. With just four seniors in the club, the average member age is younger this year.

"People in Action Around the World" was Ken Huhn's theme in his Rotary Moment. He cited examples published in The Rotarian about how clubs do unusual projects to raise money.

We welcomed the Kimballs back to the fold. Ken and Kristy were in Florida for a month's vacation. "Too long," they said.

The kind folks at Subaru will present a major gift to the Automotive Program at EMCC, according to Jen Khavari. She said also that Rotary scholarships will be rewarded to five students on the night of the EMCC Foundation dinner. We are invited to the event that will take place in the college's gymnasium. Contact Jen.

Our guests today were Jen Wingard, David Stephenson (June Kontio's son) and Nancy Lamarre, who is considering membership in the club.

Gramarian's Grief: An alert reader pointed out the editor's gaffe in using the phrase "to who" in last week's Roundtable, where he should have written "to whom."

Les Myers- November 7, 2019

Auctioning off ideas

Phonathons

Autumn's Exit- Stillwater River